

The SPring-8 facility, opened to the public on Sunday, April during the National Science and Technology week, attracted more than 4000 people.

Curiosity is the source of science. The facility had a visit of about 100 children from a kindergarden, who were surprised to see and tatch the advanced tecnology of the facility.

