

The new timing system of the linac is installed in the beam trigger line of the New SUBARU ring. This timing system is controlled in the central control room.

The electron beam from 1GeV linac is divided into synchrotron (LSBT: right side), beam dump (L2: straight), and new beam transport line (L3BT, L4BT: left side) installed in August.

